1. Objective

The overall objective of the Finance policy is to manage the effects on the operating result and the net assets from risks stemming from currency changes, interest changes and other financial risks. The policy also provides guidelines for how to act and manage these different risk exposures.

More specifically, the objectives of this Finance policy are to:

- Identify and define the financial risk exposures of Balco Group.
- Define the level of specific risks deemed acceptable
- Delegate the finance risk management within Balco Group.

2. Scope

Balco Group AB and its subsidiaries are exposed to financial risks through its activities. It is the judgement of the Board of Directors that the exposure of foreign exchange, interest rate, funding-, liquidity- and counterpart risks are unavoidable.

The Finance Policy defines rules and guidelines for managing the financial risks within Balco Group, clarifying roles and responsibilities, strategies for financial risk management as well as risk mandates.

The Finance Policy is issued and approved by the Board of Directors, reviewed annually or when conditions so require. The policy should be distributed and known by the members of the Board of Directors, the CEO, the CFO, and the Financial Manager and Managing Director of each subsidiary within Balco Group.

This Finance policy is to be applied to and adhered to throughout the whole group.

Any change in, or deviation from, this policy is a decision exclusively for the Board of Directors of Balco Group AB.

3. Policy

3.1 Financial risks

a) Currency risk

Transaction risk is defined as:

"The risk of negative financial impact due to changes in exchange rates when doing business in other currencies than Balco Group's reporting currency (SEK)".

Translation risk is defined as:

"The risk of having negative financial impact on the consolidated net equity when consolidating subsidiaries using other currencies than Balco Group's reporting currency (SEK)".

Mandate Transaction risk:

- Balco Group shall to the largest possible extent strive for "natural hedging", matching in- and outgoing cash flows in foreign currencies.
- Balco Group shall hedge projected commercial flows with the purpose of avoiding severe adverse currency impacts to Balco Group's Profit & Loss statement. Time horizon and degree of how much of projected cash flows to be hedged should be limited to avoid an over hedge.
- Capital expenditures of more than 5 MSEK are hedged to 100 % from the time decision of investment made.
- Balco Group shall monitor, measure and follow up on each subsidiaries' transaction exposure, at least twice a year.
- Subsidiaries within Balco Group shall to the largest extent match in- and outgoing cash flows in foreign currency, i.e. to achieve natural hedging and are not allowed to do any hedging.
- Approved instruments to use when managing the hedging are forwards, options and swaps, all instruments used only for risk minimizing purposes.

Mandate Translation risk:

- Balco Group shall not hedge Profit & Loss statement translation exposure
- Balco Group shall not hedge net equity exposure.
- The currency risk in the Balance sheet should be avoided in all Balco Group's foreign subsidiaries and exceptions must be approved by the CFO.
- Balco Group's operating working capital is an integrated part of the transaction exposure and not hedged separately.
- Balco Group shall monitor, measure and follow up on the total translation exposure annually.

b) Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is defined as:

"The risk of negative impact on Balco Group's financial net due to movements interest rates".

Mandate Interest rate risk:

- The Revolving credit facility are flexible, and loans can be obtained within three working days and are three-month loans with interest rate linked to STIBOR-90 (or equivalent).
- To minimize interest costs within the cash pool in each currency, a review of currency exchange needs shall take place monthly.

c) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is defined as:

"The risk that Balco Group has insufficient payment capacity, loans cannot be refinanced when desired, new funding possibly not raised or refinancing only takes place at unfavorable conditions”.

Refinancing risk is defined as:

“The risk Balco Group will not have the possibility to obtain necessary external funding and credit facilities at any given time”.

Liquidity reserve is defined as:

“Available cash, unutilized credit facilities, and short-term investments which can be converted to cash”.

Mandate Refinancing risk, Liquidity risk and Liquidity reserve:

- Balco Group should have a banking agreement (Revolving credit facility) with is valid for at least another 12 months, and renegotiation/procurement of a new agreement should start at least 18 months before the current agreement expires.
- Balco Group’s available liquidity reserve shall on average per month exceed four percent of last twelve months revenue (LTM) and not at any time be less than 50 MSEK.

d) Credit risk

Credit risk is defined as:

“The risk that the counterpart is not able to fulfill their obligations to Balco Group in a timely manner”.

Mandate Credit risk:

- Balco Group shall have a written Credit Instruction, mandatory applied in all subsidiaries.
- Balco Group subsidiaries should annually confirm their adherence to the Credit Instruction in writing to the CFO.

3.2 Cash Management

The primary objective of cash management is to secure and safeguard the cash within Balco Group. The second objective is to manage the cash efficiently, such as using cash pool, when possible.

Invoicing should be handled without delay and invoices should clearly describe payment terms, bank account numbers and consequences if payment is delayed.

Supplier payments must not be issued prior to the due date, unless certain commercial considerations apply. Standard requested supplier payment terms should be no less than 60 days; longer terms should of course be used in countries having that as normal local practice.

---------------------------------	-------------	----------------------------	---------------

Mandate Cash management:

- Subsidiaries shall make any surplus liquidity available to Balco Group through the cash pool, dividend or internal loans.
- Any arrangement by a subsidiary outside the cash pool shall be subject to the consent of the CFO.
- Balco Group may invest surplus cash in deposits and commercial papers issued and granted by any Swedish bank, with duration of maximum six months.

3.3 Pledge assets and guarantees

The general principle is to avoid pledges and company guarantees. Given the kind of business carried out, the issue of parental guarantees is an integrated part of doing business, where parental guarantees for contractual fulfillment are preferred compared to external providers, due to cost.

Mandate pledge assets and guarantees:

- Pledging of assets is not within the normal course of business and has to be approved by the board.
- All parent guarantees for operational fulfillment to counterparts should have dual signatures by either CEO, CFO or any member of the Board.
- All pledges and guarantees should be filed at group controlling.

3.4 Leasing

Leasing is seen as an alternative source of funding, both for cars, equipment as well as machinery. The investment itself should follow the Investment routine.

All leasing contracts, considering the kind of investment that is financed, should be based on reasonable amounts of installments and a judged residual value. All leasing contracts should be evaluated based on the contract's actual calculated interest.

Mandate Leasing:

- All leasing contracts with a value of more than 100 kSEK should have dual signatures by the CEO and CFO.
- Car leasing should be based on 36 monthly installments and a residual value not exceeding 45%. Country specific exceptions can be approved by the CFO.

3.5 Insurance risk

Insurance risk is defined as:

"The risk Balco Group are not able to get appropriate insurance cover".

Mandate Insurance risk:

- Balco Group shall ensure that sufficient insurance cover is maintained, defined as cover for at least 12 months business interruption, directors' and officers' liability and all assets covered to replacement value.

3.6 Administrative risk

Administrative risk is defined as:

“The risk of losses occurring due to lack of inadequate administrative control such as lack of segregation of duties, personnel or system failure”.

Administrative risks are reduced by internal control and routines, which is supported by allocation of responsibility and authority.

Mandate Administrative risk:

- All payments and other binding obligations shall be signed by at least two authorized persons, i.e. dual signatures (four eyes principle)
- Each subsidiary’s Managing director is responsible for having accurate and valid Power of Attorneys in place at all times.

4. Roles and responsibilities

The Board of Directors:

- Annual approval of the Finance Policy, or when required
- Decide upon Balco Group’s overall capital structure and external funding
- Approval of deviations outside the set risk mandates in the Finance Policy
- Delegates the formal responsibility for the Finance Policy implementation to the CEO

Audit Committee:

- Prepares and analyses certain financial inquiries and gives recommendation to the Board of Directors

Chief Executive Officer – CEO:
